

During this time I feel scared.
During this time I feel concerned for people of color.
During this time I feel sad that Donald Trump is being negative.

During this time it does not seem fair
and I want to change that.
During this time NOW I feel stronger.

I am stronger because I am saying this out loud.
I am stronger because I protested.

It is time for change, look at people like they matter.

It is time for change, use your voice.
It is time for change, time for love.
Love wins!